

Call for papers – Cadernos de Letras n° 29

Editors: André Cardoso (UFF) and Luciana Villas Bôas (UFRJ)

Atlantic Studies: Literature, History, Culture.

The editorial board of Cadernos de Letras invites papers that examine the connections between the Americas, Europe and Western Africa established over the Atlantic from 1500 on. Topics include forms of circulation of cultural practices and repertoires, the association between European expansionism and print technology, controversies over theories of empire, the justification and promotion of slavery and migration, the rise and transformation of cartographic and literary genres, and the imaginary configuration of the Atlantic from the sixteenth century to the present days.

Cadernos de Letras is a peer-reviewed, on-line academic journal of the Department of Anglo-Germanic Languages, Universidade Federal do Rio de Janeiro, which publishes research in the fields of linguistic and literary studies, especially, though not exclusively, related to the English and German languages.

Submissions deadline: 15 September 2011

Guidelines for submission are available at:

http://www.lettras.ufrj.br/anglo_germanicas/cadernos/index.php

Please submit via email to the following address: cadernosufrj@yahoo.com.br.